Department of Special Operations/Regional Studies

Mr. William J. Casey
 Director, Central Intelligence Agency
 Washington, DC 20505

Dear Mr. Casey:

Enclosed are the "Proceedings for the Twenty-Eighth International Affairs Symposium" conducted by the School of International Studies at the United States Army John F. Kennedy Special Warfare Center. Such symposia are held twice annually as the culminating exercises of the Center's Foreign Area Officer Courses. Complete background information on these symposia is contained in Appendix A to the enclosed booklet.

The first plenary session was opened by Colonel David L. Pemberton, Deputy Commander of the Special Warfare Center. Colonel Pemberton introduced Ambassador Kishore Mahbubani, Permanent Representative of Singapore to the United Nations, whose keynote presentation provided a stimulating beginning. Following the keynote address, five workshops convened to discuss the specific issues outlined by the Symposium: (1) Mexico and Central America; (2) South America and the Caribbean; (3) Middle East and Southeast Asia; (4) Africa; and (5) Asia. The workshops produced some excellent, thought-provoking ideas, conclusions, and recommendations. The proceedings are provided in the belief that it is beneficial to share the fruits of such efforts with individuals and agencies sharing our interests in national security affairs.

We hope these proceedings will be of interest and use to you.

Sincerely,

James A. Guest

Dear Mr. Casey:

Enclosed are the "Proceedings for the Twenty-fifth International Affairs Symposium." The Symposium was conducted by the School of International Studies at the United States Army John F. Kennedy Special Warfare Center. Such symposia are held twice annually as the culminating exercises of the Center's Foreign Area Officer (FAO) Courses. Complete background information on these symposia is contained in Appendix A to the enclosed booklet.

The first plenary session was opened by Colonel Charles A. Schuh, Deputy Commander, United States Army John F. Kennedy Special Warfare Center. Colonel Schuh introduced Dr. Ray Cline, whose keynote address, "The Challenge of the Covert War Era," provided a stimulating beginning for the Symposium. Following the keynote address, five workshops convened to discuss the specific issues outlined by the Symposium. These issues were: Soviet Regional Foreign Policy Objectives, Ideology and Religious Militancy, Protectionism and Economic Security, Ethnicity and Nationalism, and Terrorism and Political Violence. The workshops produced some excellent, thought-provoking ideas, conclusions, and recommendations. The "Proceedings" are provided in the belief that it is beneficial to share the fruits of such efforts with individuals and agencies sharing our interests in national security affairs.

We hope these "Proceedings" will be of interest and use to you.

Respectfully,

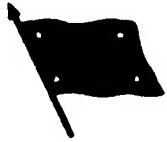

ROBERT D. WIEGAND
